Here is a new group on the Jazz scene whose rise to fame has been almost meteoric. The GENE HARRIS TRIO has played coast to coast and border to border to enthusiastic acclaim and great notices in every instance.

GENE HARRIS is the perfect example of the artist with great feel for Jazz, wonderful beat, and the technical training necessary to execute his ideas. His classical background leaves nothing to be desired having studied at Juilliard, Boston School of Music, New York College of Music, and with Leo Litwin. He has appeared in concert with the Boston Philharmonic and at Harvard University.

Gene is ably backed on these sides by Mike Long, bassist, and George Herman on drums.

Here is music in good taste, yet exciting. Here are new sounds . . . new ideas. To paraphrase the title of this album, THE GENE HARRIS TRIO IS HERE TO STAY.
